Mr. Middleswart has risen largely by als own efforts. For two years he was superintendent of the public school system of New Matamoras, and was most successful in the difficult task which that position involves.

The young man is capable of filling well the position for which he is nominated, and will make his mark. He is, a strong thinker and a natural orator

It is almost a waste of words to introduce the Republican candidate for Probate Judge to the citizens of Washington county. Who does not know Charles H. Mr. Nixon, like Mr. Middleswart, is a sure winner and adds strength to the menting the army and navy on its ticket.

Henry P. Bode was re-nominated for Treasurer by acclamation and there were no disenting votes. This is a customary formality, to be sure, but in-Mr. Bode's case there was a sincerity and heartiness about the matter which must have been very gratifying to that efficient officer

Mr. Bode's record thus far in the Treasurer's office has been one of which any man might be proud. He has a way about him that almost makes tax-paying a pleasure, and his reliability and integrity are way be-yond question. Henry node will be returned by a greater vote than he received two years ago.

Mr. Chamberlain has a large acquaintance and he will command a large vote.

Aftorney D. H. Leonard has prepared the papers and will institute suits in the Circuit Court for H. C. Hickle against Lieut. King, Omcers Haines and Trainor and John J. McNerney for conspiracy and false imprisonment. These suits are for $5,000 each, and are the outgrowth of the robbery of Hickle at McNerney's place and his subsequent arrest at the instigation of Mc-Nerney, and of his being confined in the lockup all night, and released the next morning because there were no charges against him. It will be alleged in the bill that it was a conspiracy against Hickle.

Sult has also been instituted by Richard Sams through D. H. Leonard against Lieut. King and Officers O'Neal Hopkins and Carder for false arrest and imprisonment. The papers were prepared today and were filed this afternoon. These last suits are for $1,000 each and are the outgrowth of an arrest that was made several months ago .- Sentinel.
